

What is important to me...

My family and friends.

Being part of a team. I really enjoy working with my team at Stepping Stones.

Providing a valued service that makes a difference to the children and families we work with.

Being kept informed – when I know the right details I can more effectively provide or source the most appropriate information or support for others.

This is who I am

I am the Manager of Stepping Stones.

I have worked at Stepping Stones since September 2003.

My son was referred to Stepping Stones when he was 2 years old.

As a parent I have experienced the various joys and anxieties that having a child with additional needs can bring. I am committed to ensuring that parents/carers can access information and support easily to help inform decisions and reduce worries.

How best to support me....

Trust me with your concerns and share with me information about your child.

If I look busy with another parent/carer ask one of my colleagues if I can contact you or phone me later.

Let me know what paperwork I can help you complete in plenty of time to meet a deadline

Take time to check I have listened and understood your concerns and situation so that I can share with you the information you may need to make the best informed decisions.
